TO CUT OR NOT TO CUT the nine trees bordering Crescent Park at the right was the question which delayed action on an ordinance to pave this roadway. One councilman wanted to narrow the paving suddenly from thirty to twenty-three feet at this point to save the trees. It leads to the playground and takes traffic around the hospital. Parking becomes acute in this area in the summer and will continue so even if the hospital provides a parking lot. Nine councilmen had the courage to pass the ordinance, thus providing a safe lane in this vital area.

HEAVY FOREST. Forgetting the problem of building a road through this section of Crescent Park, Warren must decide whether it wants a municipal forest or a grass park. In either case some trees will be cut out. Most of the grass in this shaded area has given way to barren gravel.

WARREN PLAYERS. Scattered throughout the OBSERVER this week will be behind the scenes pictures which our photographer took at the club's dress rehearsal Monday night. The March production is, Mister Roberts, a play about navy life during the last great war.

THE CAST OF THE WARREN PLAYER'S MISTER ROBERTS: I. to r. seated: Dolan played by Paul Mutzabaugh, Schlemmer by Paul McDannel, the Captain by Jack Gay, Lt. Ann Gerard by Cissy McCleod, Mister Roberts by Bob Wilder, Doc by Hank Walker, Wiley by Sam Haggerty. Standing: Dowdy by Frank Cruikshank, Payne by Frank Mitch, S. P. Lt. by Joel Deese, S. P. Jim Bailey, M. P. by Bill Lutz, Body by Mr. Emigh, Corpsman by Will Wakeley, Corpsman by John Swick, body by Mac Bride, Lindstrom by Chuck Barrett, Stefanowski by Leon Christiansen, Insigna by Bill Van Tassel, Mannion by Ken Morrison. Not in the picture: Pulver by Andy Yurick, and Johnson by John Newmaker.

THE PLAY IS THE THING, as the Bard said, but it takes a great deal of work behind scenes to bring a play to life. Pictured above is Florence Meadows, head of the paint crew.

A LAUGH PROVOKING SCENE ....which illustrates nothing in particular but that the imagination of a bunch of stranded American boys in the U. S. Navy is beyond imagining.

COSTUMES.....Joan Lavery fits John Newmaker with helmet.

$455,017 Budget Is Approved By Jointure

The Warren Area Joint School board approved the $455,017 budget for 54-55 when it met Monday evening. The adoption means that there probably will be no tax increase in Warren borough. The participating districts may not be so fortunate.

The budget last year was $453,337. The increase is caused by teacher salary increases, which amount to about $19,000. The millage in Warren borough last year was 21. The same millage this year will provide more money because the assessed valuation has increased nearly $200,000. The board also has a $38,000 balance, and more help from the state is anticipated.

The Joint Committee also met and gave much attention to the coming evaluation of Warren high school. The evaluators who start their work Tuesday will be dined by the committee Monday at 6:15 in the high school. The committee authorized the payment of expenses for these evaluators.

Warren high school is a member of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary schools, a regional accrediting association. It has been a member since 1928 and last was evaluated in 1946. As a result of the recommendations made at that time, Warren schools set up their own library with a full time librarian, and created a guidance staff.

The committee coming to Warren consists of a director of curriculum, a superintendent of schools, a supervising principal, a guidance director, librarian, five high school principals, ten teachers, and one college dean. They will conclude the work of committees of local teachers who have been working on a self-evaluation project for over a year, involving a 305 page criteria volume and the preparation of numerous statements.

As a result of this study a report will be made which should again mean forward steps for the jointure's schools.

The committee also named Ken Barrett, of Conewango twp., to present the diplomas at this year's graduation exercises, and it named Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge to give the baccalaureate sermon, at the recommendation of the senior class.

The committee approved attendance at Warren high school by a foreign student if the Student Council can arrange it, learned February attendance was 94 percent, two percent higher than 1953, approved $198 for special services, $120 for janitor's overtime, $151 for substitutes, $1095 for shop lumber, $2,399 for general bills, and $2,469 for activities.

An Angry Fire Razed Clarendon's Berenfield barrel shop Tuesday afternoon with damages estimated at $100,000. Clarendon's Fire chief told an OBSERVER reporter that the fire was so quick in spreading, saving the building was next to impossible. An office girl picked up the telephone to call the fire department and the fire came so quickly that she had to leave the phone dangling. The fire started, according to a statement by one of the workmen, in the paint shop of the barrel reconditioning division of the plant when a light bulb exploded. The Warren fire department received no official call to the fire and therefore didn't go. However, Sheffield and North Warren were called. They carried with them badly needed manpower totaling 25 men. The shop employed 16 men.

COUNTY NEWS in brief . . .

State Police Report a three-car accident two miles west of Youngsville on Rt. 6 last Monday afternoon involving cars driven by Geanne Votnoski, 29, Scranton, Pa., Stuart Custer, 67, Warren, and Joseph Suppa, 36, also of Warren. Votnoski had stopped for a school bus to discharge students when the other cars collided into the rear of the Votnoski car. Damages amounted to $1000. Slightly injured were: Geanne Votnoski who suffered a lacerated forehead and right knee, and Mrs. Henry Orlaski and Charles Orlaski who were riding with Votnoski at the time. The Orlaski's had light lacerations.

SHOE SIZES AND MATHEMATICS

—Some evening, when your television set blows a tube and you have run out of entertainment, we have a worthy substitute.

—Write down your shoe size to the nearest full number. Say your size is 9½; you set down 9; double it to get 18. The formula then is: (1) Add 39—you get 57. (2) Multiply by 5—you get 285. (3) Add figure 3 to last answer you get—2883. (4) Subtract year you were born from 2883. Say it was 1927—you get 926.

—That's the answer. Size 9 shoe, 26 years old."

—And if you're a gentleman, you won't quibble about the mathematics of a smaller shoe size and, by that same token, a slight deviation in age.

By Bob Walsh

This nation is putting the pressure on South American countries where communism is raising its ugly head. There may be some question of our right to interfere with the internal affairs of another nation, but assuming we are doing the correct thing, why do we stop with communism?

There also are some other forms of government in South America which are not conducive to either freedom or peace. We look a little simple slapping one country around for its undemocratic way of life while we let a butcher like Peron get away with suppression of the very freedoms we are supposed to be championing.

We can't understand why this country suddenly has shut its eyes to fascism. This is as great a danger to the freedoms of the world as communism. Maybe greater.

Without any defense of communism, which we abhor as much as any true believer in democracy, we must admit that the people who join the party in communist parties at least have a vote within the ranks. From there on they must take what is dished out to them by the chosen leaders.

Fascist leaders on the other hand are ruled from the top, usually through a combination of industrial tycoons who control the many through their stooge. The people have no rights at all.

In fact, it doesn't set well with South American countries when our oil and steel magnets support such armed dictatorships as that in Venezuela. They can't understand why we support land reforms in Korea and Japan while opposing such reforms in South America. If such land reforms had been encouraged by us, there would not be any reason for communism and it would not have gained a foothold. We encourage communism by backing armed dictators.

Until this nation sees itself through the eyes of other people, and until it starts practicing what it preaches, the battle against 'isms' may be made very difficult.

Little known in this country is the fact that we are lending military support to such people as Peron. At the very least we should be making no military equipment available to such an oppressor.

The nations of South America can be excused if they do not find us to be a friend of democracy. We show no favoritism for those who support it. As Charles A. Wells reports, not long ago we sold two destroyer escorts to Uruguay, the little nation which has fought off Peron's threats and is trying to practice democracy. But at the same time we sold two light Cruisers to Peron!

We believe it is time for the average citizen in this democracy to speak up for those in other lands. We should be demanding that our elected officials take a stand against all forms of dictatorship and that we refrain from lending any military aid to those who oppose democracy.

At the same time we must not cease our medical, educational, and nutritional help for the people of all nations.

Dissembling Politics

Republican leaders are loudly proclaiming that there is no split in party ranks. There must be, double talk some place.

Either President Eisenhower and the liberal Republicans and Senator McCarthy and the reactionary faction agree or don't agree. If there is no split there must be cooperation.

The President never really slaps down the Senator. It suggests that the GOP plans to lick conservative Democrats with its liberal program, and in states where liberal Democrats, like Douglas, are up for reelection they will point to McCarthyism with pride.

Truth of the matter is that we are seeing too much politics of the wrong kind these days. The names

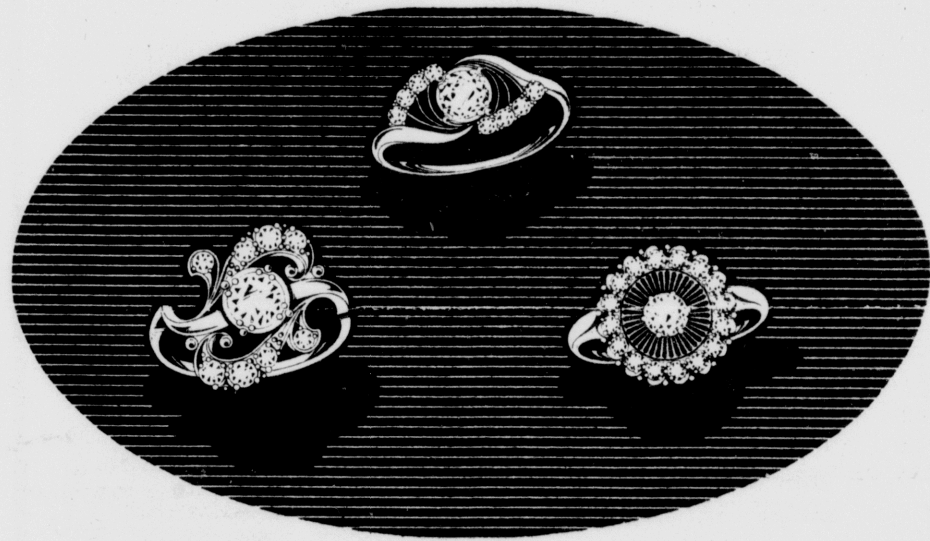

"Democrat" and "Republican" have become nothing but a habit with most people. There are at least two schools of thought within both parties.

These schools probably should get together under their respective banners and settle the issue on all subjects as they arise. As it is today they sit on the fence for party harmony purposes and a negative situation results.

Facts About The REVOLUTIONARY SPAN - O - LIFE BATTERY

Some of you have been told by your dealers who are not familiar with SPAN - O - LIFE that this battery is an ordinary premium lead acid battery. The plates in SPAN - O - LIFE are NOT LEAD, but an alloy that does not self-discharge when sitting as lead batteries do.

The electrolyte used in SPAN - O - LIFE is of a mineral derivative base that will not heat up when the generator is putting a charge into it. Heat is your greatest killer of batteries. Because SPAN - O - LIFE has eliminated internal heat, this means longer life, and less water to be added for you have less evaporation. This electrolyte is of U. S. origin.

Many of you have read of the long life batteries enjoyed by the people of Europe. The Swedish have their nickel cadmium battery, the French have their silver battery and SPAN - O - LIFE is copied after the German long life battery. You may also have read how these amazing batteries were kept out of the United States by a cartel.

The capacity of SPAN - O - LIFE is 2 to 5 times greater than lead acid batteries. This is very important for the cars of today with so many electrical accessories. SPAN - O - LIFE batteries have been run dead over 2000 times and always come back to life unaided.

Should ever a SPAN - O - LIFE go bad while in your car, it will be replaced free of cost. You do not pay for the number of months that the battery has been used.

PANCAKES BY THE THOUSANDS were baked on this large griddle by Ferris Middlemast and Bob Pierce both of Corry at the Youngville GLF pancake day.

This event which marks the beginning of an annual affair was held Wednesday, March 3rd from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

FREE PANCAKES AT YOUNGVILLE COOPERATIVE GLF. Bill Starr, manager, reports that nearly 250 patrons and friends enjoyed pancakes at the local establishment last week. Part of the noon hour crowd paused temporarily for the benefit of the photographer. During the afternoon the FFA boys from the local high school helped in the consumption of twenty-five pounds of pancake flour. Miss Shirley Groves and Mr. Starr were responsible for the serving.

Youngville Council Reviews Paving Plans

At the March meeting of the Youngville borough council, president Gilbert M. Sanford presented temporary plans developed by the Pennsylvania department of highways for suggested improvements to East and West Main streets. Curbing on both sides of the U. S. highway route 6 with the road widened to various widths from 36 to 46 ft. and blacktop applied to give a final result comparable to North Main st. which was improved several years ago, was included in the drawing studied by the local lawmakers. Intricate problems with regard to East Main st. drainage, parking and sidewalks were considered as major obstacles to be solved before final approval is granted. It is emphasized that the program is still in the drawing-board stage and that no definite commitments have been made by local or state officials.

During the meeting, the council discussed the previously authorized drainage installations for Highland ave. and High st. between West Main and Second. They granted approval for the secretary to advertise for bids to cover 824 ft. of 18 in. concrete pipe and 260 ft. of 12 in. concrete pipe which has been estimated as sufficient to cover this project.

A resolution framed by Mr. Harper, borough solicitor, stating that the local council raised no objection to the Youngville community television association erecting and maintaining cable on utility poles was passed. The action required that permission be received from the utility companies involved and that a specified amount of insurance be carried by the association.

L. J. Heideger requested and received permission to attend a training session on roads and streets which is being conducted at State college April 19 through 21. Mr. Heideger recommended the purchase of a street sweeper at a cost of $2200 and a gas driven tamper for approximately $550.

Mr. Mariner and Mr. Wilson were appointed by the president to investigate the condition of the railing along I.O.O.F. st. and requested that they suggest a solution.

Police chief Chappel's report disclosed that 45 parking violation tickets were issued of which 18 have been paid and 18 are pending. The collection from parking meters for February totaled $285.53.

An exoneration list which had been prepared by the local tax collector and already approved by the school board was accepted without change.

Burgess W. J. Kay and councilmen Sanford, Anderson, Mariner, Wilson and Hull were present for the meeting. Councilmen Borton and Cowan were absent.

Youngville Public Library Ass'n Holds Annual Meeting

Interest in a library building was increased Tuesday evening at the annual meeting of the Youngville public library association when Edward B. Day, chairman of the building committee, read his report. Mr. Day revealed that his committee had visited libraries in Tidioute and Busti and had discussed the local requirements with a Jamestown, N. Y. contractor. His report indicated that a building similar in design to the Busti library constructed to outside dimensions of 25 ft. by 45 ft. would interested scouters. Mr. Overturf expanding on his topic of conservation suggested that scouts could cooperate by planting trees, explaining proper disposal of picnic wastes to adults and providing bird houses and feeders for song birds.

CHIEF CORNPLANTER COUNCIL MONTHLY ROUNDTABLE combined the theme of Conservation with tin can craft as it met in the Youngville Evangelical United Brethren church last week. Part of the enthusiastic gathering is pictured reviewing back issues of cost between $20000 and $25000. The suggestion called for a colonial type structure with brick exterior which would be of sufficient size to house 6000 to 8000 volumes and room for 1000 volume expansion.

The members of the Association expressed their appreciation to the building committee for their efforts and accepted their suggestion that a financial plan for maintenance and overhead be prepared before construction is authorized.

Of special significance to citizens of the community was the report by Edolph Johnson that the average monthly circulation is 250 volumes with two thirds of the readers being adults. The present collection totals 3500 books.

Lewis L. Crippen was elected to a full five year term to the board of directors.

In a meeting of the directors of the Association held the same evening all the present officers were re-elected for another year. A communication from the Youngville school board contained a contribution of $50 for which the president, Mrs. McDowell, requested that the corresponding secretary express the appreciation of the members.

YOUNGVILLE RED CROSS DRIVE NEARS $500

Mrs. Paul R. Getts, Youngville chairman of the Red Cross campaign, reported Tuesday evening that contributions to date totaled nearly $500. Two or three solicitors requested additional time to complete their areas delaying the final results. Mrs. Getts states that any individuals overlooked in the door-to-door canvass may still contribute to the local fund by contacting any of the volunteer workers. The director of the local campaign expressed her thanks for the efforts of the solicitors and the generosity of the citizenry in making this drive a success.

Taming of the Shrew Opera on March 13

WBEN-TV will carry one of the opera treats of 1954 when "The Taming of the Shrew," based on Shakespeare's immortal comedy, will be telecast Saturday afternoon, March 13, from 4 to 5:30 o'clock.

John Raitt, Susan Yager, Sonia Stolin and John Alexander will have the lead roles in Vittorio Giannini's humorous masterpiece about a shrewish wife.

The opera telecast has added significance because the entire 90-minute extravaganza will be telecast in color by NBC-TV. Many recent tests have shown that reception on black-and-white sets is more vivid when the program originates in color.

David Niven and Cass Daley Hope's Guests March 16

Bob Hope will have one of his most lavish lists of guest stars Tuesday evening, March 16, when he presents Actor David Niven, Comedienne Cass Daley and Singer Janis Paige on his once-a-month show on WBEN-TV. Les Brown's Orchestra also will appear on the hour-long show starting at 8 o'clock.

OFF THE NEWS BEAT

Is Warren Ready for the Kinzua dam? For years we have urged Warren to keep informed on the various methods available for flood control. If a Kinzua dam is to be built it is important that it be constructed to give the area the least trouble and the maximum benefit. Perhaps we have little voice in the matter but we are certain that we have nothing to lose by being informed and by expressing our wants. Our congressman could be of some help in this respect.

This week it again was announced that congressional reports indicate the dam will be built. The date mentioned is 1958. This may startle some who have laughingly suggested that this generation need not worry about such an event. It also suggests that the Republicans will spend money for public works. As a Democrat project this was labeled boondoggling.

Want To Invest in TV? With the possibility that Jamestown's UHF station will not adequately serve Warren county, there are some who are considering the possibilities of a TV station in this area. In fact, it might be seriously considered even if a Jamestown station's reception is good. Variety in TV is as important as in radio, and Warren county has some very logical places for transmitting TV signals. If interested, call 2978. We will add you to the list whether it be a thousand or a hundred thousand you have to invest.

What Are We Doing about that super highway which is being talked about west of here, many want to know? They believe the Chamber of Commerce should be taking

YOUNGVILLE GIRL SCOUTS TO ENTERTAIN SHUT-INS

Mrs. Wade Ransom, Youngsville girl scout leader who is the recent recipient of the Thanks award, discusses plans for developing a puppet program to entertain shut-ins with Nancy Halfast of intermediate troop 34 on her right and Sherry Craft of brownie troop 60 on her left. Mrs. Ransom also announced that the annual girl scout birthday party which is the highlight of this week of special emphasis will be held Saturday from 2 to 4 in the parish house of the St. Francis Episcopal church.

an active part in the area discussions, as is the case with other communities and that we should be pulling strings to bring the roadway as close to us as possible. One suggestion is that it should cut across state, southeasterly, rather than duplicate already wide highways south of Pittsburgh.

STRANGE THINGS ARE HAPPENING

As Red Buttons used to say, strange things are happening. NBC has unfurled its new, expensive and ambitious "Home" show which breaks sharply away from traditional daytime programming. How well the women will cotton to it, only time will tell but it sure is off to a brave start.

Meanwhile, NBC is plotting a companion piece to its "Today" show, a nighttime show called appropriately "Tonight." "Today," "Home" and "Tonight" will all be underwritten by NBC's new magazine concept of selling. A sponsor simply buys an insert as you would buy an ad in a magazine, leaving the program content entirely to the network.

The importance of this from the viewer's standpoint is that the network is assuming a responsibility for the direction of its programs it has never done before. Actually, the networks — all of them — are far deeper in the business of providing their own programs than they ever were in radio. But there is a great difference between packaging and selling — as CBS has — something like "My Friend Irma" which is straight commercial entertainment and something like "Home" which is a well thought out and thoroughly planned effort to utilize television's great potentialities rather than simply to make some money out of them.

That's one aspect of the thing. Another one: Edward R. Murrow's program "Person to Person" is racking up a rousing rating of around 32 which is pretty terrific for even a commercial show. Yet "Person to Person" is not, by ordinary standards, a commercial show. It's a decidedly offbeat operation. I very much doubt whether anyone except Ed Murrow could have got it on the air in the first place.

"Person to Person" (CBS-TV 10:30 p. m. EST Fridays), in case you've never seen it, is simply a live interview with prominent people in their own homes. It isn't gimmicked up or gagged up which is its chief charm. Yet, people are interested in prominent people and in how and where they live.

This supports a theory that I have been nurturing for some time. It seems to me that the way to succeed in this medium as a long-pull operation is to be offbeat, to avoid the stereotype rather than to pursue it. It's going to be a long time before this idea will penetrate into the ruling circles but I think eventually it will be adopted not because it's a good idea but because it's a successful one.

Not long ago, I made a speech in Philadelphia and, if I may, I'd like to quote a bit of it. "Television is losing — or has already lost — its sense of excitement. You remember when you first bought the set the feeling of wonder and suspense — the What's-going-to-happen-next feeling — that you had when you turned it on. How many still have it? A great many of my friends, I notice, have the distinct feeling now that they've seen television, that there's no particular point in turning it on because they saw it last week — and the week before that and the year before that."

Does it have to be that way? Do you have to sell Carnation Milk by putting on Burns and Allen once a week thirty-nine weeks a year? Suppose you took a $1,000,000 advertising appropriation and blew the works on one good two-hour show like the Ford anniversary show on two networks. The Ford show had people talking about it for about six months — and what's the matter with that as an advertising dodge?

At any rate, the pursuit of sameness, the hewing to the formula, is

Drama TV Radio Music Reading Hobbies

The skeptics who laughed at stories that Warren was to have cinemascope in the Library theatre, this week are being refuted by the tangible evidence of hammer and saw. The work of tearing out five rows of seats in the balcony and remodeling the projection booth started at six o'clock Monday morning.

When the projection booth is ready the screen will be installed. The present screen is fourteen by seventeen feet in size and is twenty-two feet back of the footlights. The new one will be nineteen feet high and thirty-three feet wide. So that all can see this expanded area the screen will be brought forward to a point just six feet back of the footlights.

The Warren radio station is having a contest this month in which you might be interested. The management says it wants to know what you think is wrong with its programs, and do you have any suggestions? You write a letter along this line and the winner, or winners, will be rewarded with radios, if we understand it correctly.

We mention this because there are so many who do not listen to the radio and who might not learn about it otherwise. We also believe that the most constructive criticism may come from those who have stopped listening. They must have good reason and no doubt it is this reason in which WNAE is interested.

So write the kids a letter and tell them what you think of the Warren radio programs. A few mature proposals might be helpful, and you might have a winner.

When this is read probably one night of Mr. Roberts, the latest Warren Players production, has been seen. If it is Friday you still might find a seat.

Mr. Roberts is a play so entertaining and well written that given a cast that will at least memorize the lines it will please the average audience. Other than the director, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, and the cast, which we previously have listed, those having prominent duties in the production include Mrs. Marie Hamilton as production manager, Mrs. Robert Wilder in charge of props, Joan Lavery arranging costuming, and Byron Knapp as make-up chief. It starts at 8:30, in the Woman's Club.

Glee Club Comes Here

A publicity release on the Michigan Men's Glee Club, which the Jaycees will present on March 15, at the Woman's Club, says the group started in 1859 and was first known as the University of Michigan Glee and Mandolin Club. In 1922 it was changed to plain glee club, but the instrumental group continued to take part and also played for dances which followed the concerts.

The club became for men only when it was decided to take part in the intercollegiate glee club contest, where instrumental groups were not allowed. In the early days the organization at various times included a band, a small orchestra, native Hawaiian artists, banjo quintet, bird imitators, impersonators, and mandolin acts.

The group is one of the best of its kind in the business and should attract a large audience. Tickets may be obtained at Kinnears and Picketts in Warren; Temple Pharmacy in Kane; Skelton Drug in Sheffield; Hardenburg's in Youngsville, and the Humidor in James-town.

comination of life experiences. The most dangerous form socially is that in which the person attacks his fellow-men. We think it is most serious when he does this in the form of criminalism. The person who is more clever in expressing his resentment is the one who exploits the hidden resentments of others.

Such is the person who in one guise or another, uses the robes and sanctity of some exalted position to gain followers and strength by denouncing, often with dramatic flourish, whatever victims are the most vulnerable at the moment.

Frequently, resentment is even-

everyday psychology

by Dr. Norman C. Morgan

I have known a young man for sometime who was rather cruelly treated by his father as a child. These experiences were very painful to him. A number of things conspired to cause in him a reaction that he could not get over even after he no longer had anything to do with his father. The essential feature of the father's behavior was that he could find nothing good in his son, and at the same time freely expressed everything that he thought was wrong with him.

I do not know what the factors were in the father's life that caused him to need a scape-goat in the form of his son. I do know that it is a fairly common occurrence and may not have any serious consequences when the victim can either fight back or does not care. But when the victim needs to love the hostile parent and cannot find a way to retaliate the insults, he gradually develops a pernicious feeling of resentment.

Resentment is pernicious because it arises in a situation of powerlessness. There is no solution to an injustice. Life is so full of injustice that anyone starting out with a resentful attitude will find plenty of opportunity to exercise it. Since teachers often look for a scapegoat in the classroom, the resentful child of a hostile parent may be a ready-made victim.

The final form that resentment takes in an adult depends on the

of the PTA which sponsors their troop 104. The young ladies are: Donna Watson, Norma Sponsler, and Joan Specht.

uniform in above picture. First meeting for this group was Monday at Beaty. Troop 28 and 104 are represented.

Can't See The Park For The Trees

It was encouraging to see nine Warren councilmen have the courage to vote their convictions in the face of front page pressure from the daily press. These self-styled champions of park beauty who pompously pat their own back with front page editorials constantly confuse the real issue and leave the public with the impression that some big, bad councilman wants to destroy our civic lace curtains.

The castigation of a single councilman with a front page box was unwarranted. Crescent Park and the road which borders it are not solely the problem of South Side residents. In fact, residents of that area would be a minority in such a decision.

We don't know of a councilman who wants to destroy the beauty of Crescent Park. The thought in every councilman's mind is what can be done to improve it. There's a difference, you know?

At a recent meeting of the Warren borough council there was a discussion concerning trees that might be in the way of a paved street which would serve the hospital. Some councilmen admittedly were afraid of the reaction which would set in if they were to approve an ordinance calling for a thirty-foot street. Such a width might mean the cutting down of a few trees.

Thinning Job Needed

The fact is that we need to cut down some trees in Crescent Park whether or not we pave a street. We need to do this if we are to preserve the beauty about which there has been several front page raves in the Warren Times Mirror.

Probably the first step we should take is to decide what kind of a park area we as a community want to have along our south shores. Do we want a municipal forest or do we want a beautiful stretch of grass, properly interlaced with the right proportion of trees and shrubbery?

It is not possible to have both! You don't grow fine lawns in the woods!

If it is a forest we want, our wish is well in the making. But even if our want is a woodland there will be a need for thinning and supervision. It must be kept clear, and trees which interfere with the proper growth of healthier specimens must be brought down.

We have a park committee which is trying to do a good job. We have a capable park superintendent. Improved health for either the grass or the trees is one of his major ambitions.

We believe such work should be left to the professionals and that the amateurs should sit back and enjoy the results. So far the issue has been so confused that no one has been able to do an efficient job and the result is not one of utmost beauty.

Our Tree Program

Our park committee has a well established tree-planting program that annually adds many more than it hacks down. This planting often runs as high as two hundred or more.

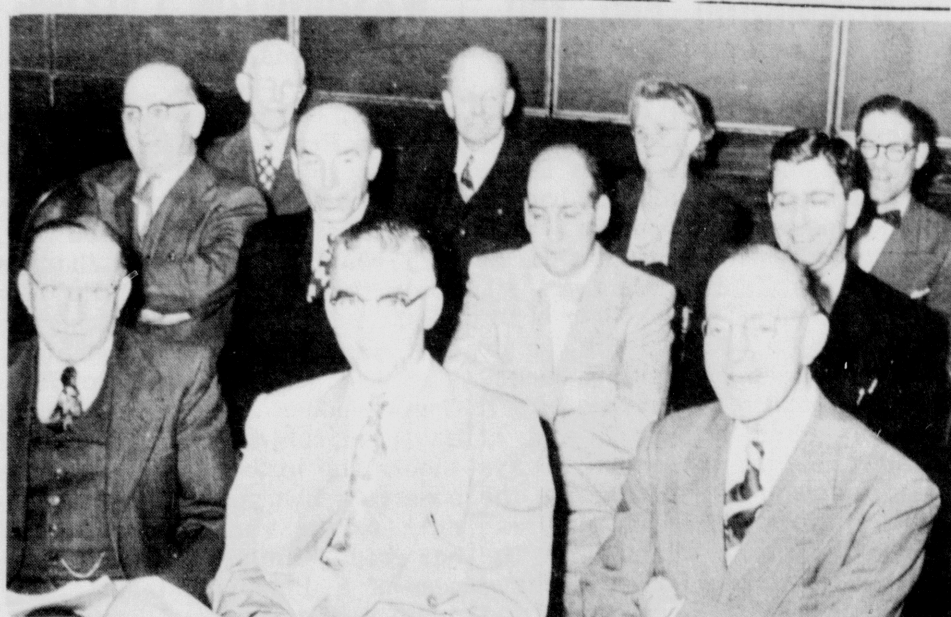

The park workers are developing a nursery for both trees and shrubbery which will be saving to the borough. Large trees are not cheap, and such a nursery will mean a supply of trees and plants at practically no cost to the taxpayer.

The park department also is developing the use of new kinds of trees. These will avoid destruction by electric and telephone company crews through their controlled height without losing their beauty, and they will be of a variety that causes a minimum of trouble underground.

Soldiers Would Understand

If plans for the future involve the cutting down of a tree which was planted in memory of a soldier who gave his life for this nation, we are certain that soldier will approve if the tree must give its life for a better Warren.

And if a safe street becomes the problem involved in this decision we are doubly certain that the soldier will give up his tree so that others may have a safer life, and to protect those who have critical business in the vicinity of our hospital.

Swanson, Calvary Baptist.

The association states as its purpose, "to arouse interest in the Sunday Schools of the county; to seek to stir the enthusiasm of those already working the Sunday Schools; and to provide a channel for bringing together for fellowship and inspiration, the many S. S. workers, in district and county wide rallies." At a meeting held March 9, the following temporary officers were elected: Fred T. Miller, chairman; Frank A. Kehrli, assistant chairman; O. R. Pang, secretary; W. L. Albaugh, treasurer. The group are planning a county-wide Sunday School rally in May.

Let us remember that there are fifteen thousand people in Warren. They want a good hospital, safe streets leading to it, and a beautiful park nearby. The pet wants of a small minority should not sway the judgment of those who were elected to assure us of the best community possible in which to live.

Washington And You

By Margaret Chase Smith

WASHINGTON. -- It is surprising that a tragedy like the shooting fiasco in the United States House of Representatives did not happen sooner. Security precautions have never been what they should be around the Capitol. Members sitting or standing on the Floor of the House or the Floor of the Senate have long been like "sitting ducks" for any fanatic who might take it into his mind to take a shot at them. Great precaution has always been taken to keep visitors in the galleries from "shooting pictures" inside the House Chamber or the Senate Chamber. Visitors have been searched for cameras and made to check their cameras outside. Strangely enough they have not been checked for guns.

How this could be is difficult to understand. Perhaps the answer is in the fact that members of the House and Senate are confident that the people harbor no intense feeling against them -- and in that confidence feel assured that no visitor in the gallery would try to shoot them.

That is quite an assumption. Particularly is it quite an assumption in this time of divisiveness and bitterness in our nation when neighbors grow suspicious of the loyalty of each other and when politicians with reckless abandon call anyone who disagrees with them a "Fascist" or a "Communist". Surely it is possible that with emotions running as high as they are in these days that there is a danger that the vitriolic name-calling will be followed by physical violence. And surely this should be enough in itself to prompt greater security precautions with respect to the chambers of the House and Senate.

Of course, there are occupational hazards to anyone in public office. I am sure that practically every important officeholder at some time receives threats against his or her life. I have received threats against mine, but I have never

WASHINGTON CALLING

By Marquis Childs

BONN, Germany. -- If the commission President Eisenhower is naming to survey the American foreign service is in need of an example of what is wrong and why, they could not do better than to come to this capital of the new West Germany republic. During the past year the State Department staff attached to the office of High Commissioner James B. Conant has been subjected to a series of shocks that in the view of objective observers has reduced morale almost to the vanishing point and has greatly impaired the effectiveness of a diplomatic team at the moment of the crucial contest between East and West for the allegiance of Germany.

It is a case history of the significance of the raids conducted by Senator Joseph McCarthy with the all-too-frequent capitulation of the State Department.

The first chapter was the tour of Cohn and Schine, who flashed publicized them or asked for any special protection because I have always felt that these threats came from crackpots. Perhaps I am wrong in that attitude, for the four Puerto Ricans who emptied their murderous fire on the Congressmen on the Floor of the House were crackpots. I am glad that they were crackpots instead of crack shots.

It is reported that the Puerto Ricans said that they had intended to go to the Senate Gallery and that they thought they were in the Senate Gallery. I shudder a little about this because had they gone there, I might have been right in the line of fire.

Our nation is lucky that no more damage was done. But the question is whether we will be smart enough to learn our lesson from this horrible episode -- or will we forget all about it after a certain length of time and slip back into comfortable complacency?

through Germany as agents for McCarthy, summoning officials to appear before them in hotel-room sessions. One of their targets was Theodore Kaghan, who a year ago was Acting Deputy Director of Information. Those who had a chance to observe Kaghan's work say that he was one of the most effective of the army of Americans who have taken part since 1945 in the German occupation. He had imagination, boldness, the courage to cut through red tape when it was important to get something done. Kaghan was summoned back to Washington and thrown into the McCarthy chopper. He did a good job of defending himself. But after the flurry of headlines the State Department asked for his resignation.

The next victim, Charles Thayer, was a more experienced foreign service officer, coming from the traditional background of the old career service. He was one of the four or five recognized experts on the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe in the State Department. This reporter talked to a number of persons in Munich -- Americans, Germans and others, all of whom testified to the effective and even exceptional job Thayer was doing. He had established close and friendly relations with the heads of the Bavarian government who took him completely into their confidence. Thayer happens to be a brother-in-law of Charles Bohlen. During the Senate fight over Bohlen's confirmation to be Ambassador to Moscow, led by McCarthy, a threat was made to bring Thayer's name into the controversy with the intimation that an alleged incident in his life of many years before would be publicized. He, too, was peremptorily summoned to Washington and there ordered to sign a resignation dated that same day.

Victim No. 3 fits in a somewhat different category. John P. Davies, Jr., one of the senior and most-able career officers, had been under fire in a "case" in which it was alleged he had recommended the employment of Communists as undercover agents. In Bonn he was the chief political officer in the mission. As the result of a new attack by McCarthy, Davies was transferred to Lima, Peru, where the political potentialities were less explosive. Recently he was called to Washington to prepare his answer to the charges. With all the pressure of the Berlin conference, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is said to have spent his spare time reading the 2,000 pages of the Davies "case". Final action is up to Dulles.

In a fourth case the victim's name did not get into the headlines. Back in Washington he was brought before Scott McLeod, department security officer. In the course of an interrogation the questions put to him were so insulting that he promptly resigned.

Thus the four most knowledgeable men were removed in less than a year. For the survivors the handwriting was large on the wall. Able Americans are here, some, particularly in Berlin, who have long carried on the fight against Communist propaganda and intrigue.

The outsider can have no way of knowing what they report to Washington about the situation in Germany. But they are not likely to report what may be found unwelcome or unpopular or what, if expressed later before a Senate committee, might through some distortion or other hold them up to suspicion of dangerous thoughts. This is, of course, a very serious matter, since it is on the accuracy and the integrity of such reports that American foreign policy is based.

Whether Conant is aware of it or not, and naturally the Germans would not tell him, this has made a profound impression on influential officials. In this connection the impression of an America torn by internal dissensions so serious as to affect major policy cannot be exaggerated. American prestige has suffered greatly in the three years since Senator McCarthy went on the Communist warpath. The headline in "The World," a leading West German newspaper (WILD SHOOTING IN AMERICAN PARLIAMENT), seemed to startled Germans only the climax to a series of disorders comparable to those in one of the banana republics of Central America.

Many Americans passing through Bonn have been critical of Conant. They say that he does not seem to know what the score is, but having himself had no experience in diplomacy and with little knowledge of Germany, he could hardly expect to function without an expert staff. It is as though a general newly in command had had his staff officers shot out from under him. And in the light of the Stevens-McCarthy quarrel that is an uncomfortable analogy.

He frequently calls on Chancellor Adenauer, but if one may believe officials close to the chancellor, Adenauer does not count on learning about America from the High Commissioner. When he is at all in doubt, he sends one of his trusted lieutenants to Washington on a quiet, undercover mission. And, given the state of confusion in Washington today, that is a very sound course of action.

Schedules Announced

The schedules for all Warren high school sports have been announced, including track this spring, football in the fall, basketball and wrestling next winter.

The track team will open against Corry and Youngsville at Warren on April 20. Titusville will come to Warren April 23, and Oil City will be here April 27. Kane, Smethport, and Youngsville will be met at Smethport, and there will be trips to Jamestown, Titusville, and Oil City. Other home meets include Meadville and Jamestown. The district meet will be at Allegheny College, May 22, and the state meet will be May 29 at State College.

The football team will have Corry at home for the opener. Other home games will include Franklin, Meadville, Ridgway, Erie Tech, and Jamestown. Visits will be made to Titusville, Oil City, Bradford, and Dunkirk.

The wrestlers will meet Oil City, DuBois, Clearfield, Titusville, Franklin, Brockway, New Bethlehem, and Erie East.

The courtmen will tangle with Southwestern, Kane, Jamestown, Sheffield, Bradford, Alumni, the league teams, and possibly some others to be booked.

SPORT THIS WEEK

County Bows Out

Warren county high school basketball teams are through for the season. Sheffield lost to Shinglehouse, 73-54, in District 9, Class C play-offs. Youngsville was edged in the closing minutes by Girard, 55-52, in District 10, Class B. East Forest which plays Warren county teams in league play lost to Fairview, 68-59, in District 10 Class C action.

Now the Allegheny Valley boys will put on an all-star show at Beaty, Tuesday, at 8:15. Tidioute, Northern Area, Youngsville, and neighboring schools will have men on the squad.

Wrestlers Eliminated

The Warren high school trio of matmen who won their way to the regionals were defeated Saturday. Denny Brown suffered a fate similar to the one which won him his place in the regionals. He won through to the finals but lost on a referee's decision after a tie on points. Denny won the District title the same way.

Frank Smith bumped into the defending state champ and was pinned in the first period. Lou Cummings was pinned in the third period of the semi-final bout.

Meadville Continues

Section Two's banner still waves in the hands of a tough Meadville team which beat Erie East, 64-53, with Sharrar getting 21 and W. Jenkins, 17. Laskoff was East's power with 20. The Bulldogs play Sharpshville in Erie tonight for the District 10 Class A toga. They own a 52-42 early season victory over this team.

Kane Also Rolls

Kane stayed in the Class A battle over in District 9 by beating Clearfield, 67-64, and 65-49. The Wolves now meet the winner of the Meadville-Sharpshville game Tuesday in Farrell.

A Good Show

All of the gym laurels are not for boys. Marty Sabel's Warren high school girl gymnasts proved that before well filled houses in Beaty last week. The girls proved great ability and proof of excellent training at the hands of Miss Sabel and Jane Black.

Incidentally, we understand that Miss Black is a champion major-ette. Why couldn't she provide Warren with a combination of performing baton twirlers that would rival the main attraction?

Sport Quickies

Another Play-off may be seen on Beaty court, Monday, when St. Marys Parochial might meet St. Joseph's, of Oil City.

Basketball Memories were revived when we read of Farrell defeating Washington high school, 69-53, in a play-off game. Coaching Washington is Bill Laughlin, who as a Warren Penn pro was one of the most promising players seen in Warren. He even topped his collegiate teammate, Bud Jeannette, who went on to great professional heights after leaving Warren.

Toby Lyons Shot Out of the Houston tournament. His 152 cut him off at the halfway mark.

Off To Pittsburgh will go the Warren Y basketball team, March 19 and 20, for the state Y play-offs. The winner goes to the national in Scranton, April 1, 2, and 3.

And To Jamestown go the Y swimmers, Saturday, for a return match with one of two teams to beat them this year. They splash at two.

Second Game of the YMCA City league play-off will be seen tonight. The Rockets took the Merchants in the opener, 67-66, in an extra period brawl. Bob Foley got 24 points to lead the scoring.

Junior Hi-Y Champs are the Bluedevils who settled it by licking the Monarchs last Saturday. They did it again as a part of the City league attraction, Monday. Tonight they will take on the Junior Hi-Y All-stars for the preliminary attraction.

Play Off Parade finds Shinglehouse losing to Sykesville in District 9 Class C play, and now will meet West Middlesex, which conquered Fairview for District 10 honors.

This will be a tough one because the Bluedevils must give up George Rasmussen and David Lord to the league all-star team, which also has Paul Bova, Pete Bova, Jerry Corbran, Nick Creola, Dick Dunn, Fred Falkinburg, Berry Kornreich, Tom Schaeffer, John Tassone and Robert Hartnett.

Signed by Cleveland is Phil Swanson, of Ludlow, righthand hurler who went strong in the Kane Legion league. He will work out at Jackson Beach, Fla.

TRUNDLING ON DOWN

No one disturbed the lead team in the five-man event of the Warren Bowling Association. The best total was Anderson Bread's 3001 which moved into fourth place.

The top ten now read: Warren County Insurance, 3024; New York Restaurant, 3013; Wiggers Chevrolet, 3004; Anderson's, 3001; Culligan's, 2973; Thomas Coupling, 2934; Keystone Printers, 2931; Anderson Jayvees, 2925; Pinewood Inn, 2921; Rudolph Barber, 2910; Olson Bjers, 2907.

High game up to now is the 1085 spilled by New York Restaurant. High individual game is 256 rolled by Pete Juliano.

The doubles leaders changed when Paul Yagge and Irv Rader hit 1208. This event now reads: Yagge-Rader, 1208; Cedrone-Kulbacki, 1206; E. Billsbourough-P. Fehlman, 1195; J. Clark-R. Haben, 1183; R. Hendrickson-J. Angove, 1173; M. Smith-R. Dixon, 1168; J. Saloman-Vic Landers, 1152; P. Robillard-C. Strandburg, 1143; G. Coveney-D. Lineman, 1143.

The singles lead also changed with P. Fehlman rolling 655. Following him are B. Gnage, 653; J. Richards, 651; Irv Rader, 626; A. Randinelli, 625; J. Carbon, 625; B. Kerr, 624; H. Ladner, 623; J. Cedrone, 621; M. Smith, 618.

Topping the all-events is Irv Rader who hit 657 in the team event, 572 in the doubles, and 626 in the singles for an 1855 total.

There will be a doubles and singles squad Friday at nine, including L. Laughlin-A. Cunningham, J. Flaus-R. Benson, W. Pasquerette-P. Rosenquist, E. Manfrey-N. Denardi.

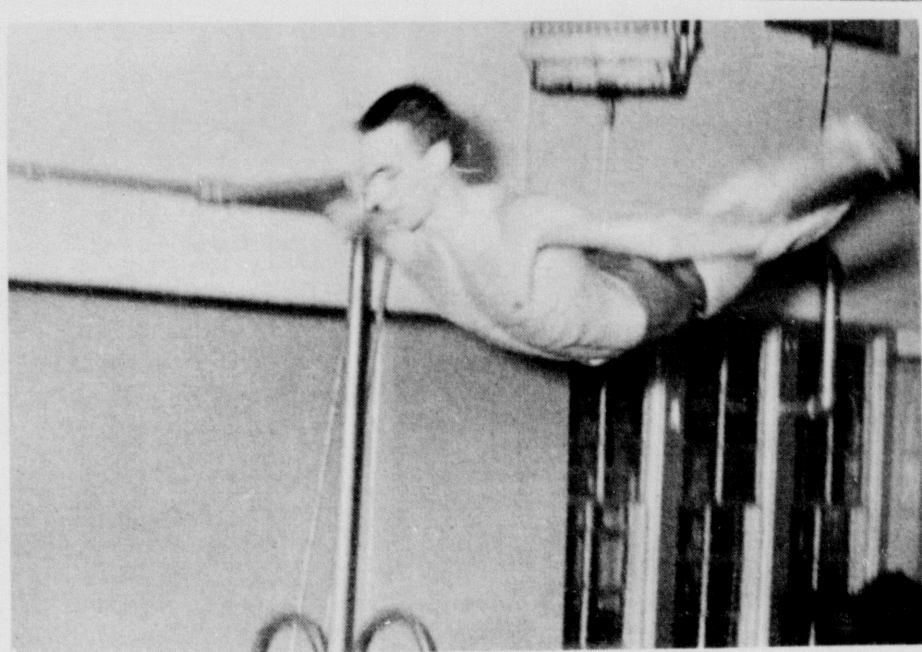

The rest of this week's tournament schedule follows:

Team Event — Saturday, 7 p. m. New Process, Warren Observer, Dykes Dairy (Classic), and Penn Restaurant.

Doubles and Singles — Saturday, 7 p. m. R. McClement-R. Irwin, E. Schuler-R. Sequoia, C. Grundberg-E. Honhart; C. Papalia-R. Coates. 9 p. m. G. Mickelson-R. Theodore, F. Suppa-J. F. Randinelli, L. Chimenti-L. Barone, J. Thomas-M. Bleech.

Warren Millage Goes Up As Budget Comes Down

The Warren borough council Monday night reduced its proposed budget about $24,000, but at the same time raised taxes to 19 mills. Two months ago it proposed a general fund budget of $346,744. Since then it discovered that some money budgeted was not apt to be collected. A quick juggling job effected the reductions but more taxes were needed to compensate for some reductions that couldn't be made.

The millage breaks down into fifteen for general expenditures, two and one quarter for debt reduction, and one and three quarters for street lighting. Just multiply your property or personal value by three mills and you will learn the amount your taxes have gone up.

The $24,000 reduction in the budget was effected by reducing the public works budget $14,000, which makes it $73,236, just $4,664 less than in 1953. The police budget was sliced $2,000, making it $2,910 less than last year.

The parks budget was cut from $20,024 to $17,024, which is $626 less than 1953. In addition the recreation appropriation of $1,500 was eliminated, and the playgrounds fund was reduced $1,500, down to $5,450, which is $225 more than last year.

The other appropriations and sources of revenue are the same as we reported in January. The total assessed valuation in Warren today is $15,380,981. This is $193,764 higher than last year.

Councilman Merenick asked for the passage on third reading of the ordinance to pave Crescent Park, from the Hickory st. bridge to a point seventy feet west of the former maternity entrance. He said nine memorial trees would have to be cut down and the markers moved to other trees.

Park Superintendent Reier said the trees have been injured by cars and that there is a problem of too many trees in the park, which has lost thousands of feet of turf because of the heavy shade and the vegetation fight for sustenance. He said that even a narrow road would bring the curb to the edge of the trees and would cut the shallow elm roots. He also said that other sick or damaged trees had been removed and the markers changed to other trees with the consent of the DAR.

Borough Engineer Barwis said the trees are almost in the center of the road right-of-way which was created in 1904.

Councilman Africa suggested an amendment that would change the road width to 23 feet where the trees begin, forty feet west of the hospital entrance.

Councilman Carbon suggested that this would be creating a sudden bottleneck. He reminded council that the playground was becoming a popular area and that a sewage plant and the resulting clean river would make the area even more popular. This created a parking problem other than that of the hospital, which says it will provide its own lot.

Councilman Kopf argued against a wide road, claiming 23 feet is enough for parking on one side and free passage of two vehicles. He pointed to Fifth ave. as an example.

Councilman Carbon said it wasn't the same problem because Fifth does not have the same parking problem.

Councilman Rudiger objected to changing the width and said nine trees should not stand in the way of progress. Councilman Carbon asked why St. Clair st. had been widened. He was told it was for the purpose of facilitating high speed traffic.

The amendment then was defeated, 12 to 5, with Councilmen Africa, Miller, Patchen, Smith, and Painter the only ones approving it.

The original ordinance, calling for the thirty foot pavement was passed, 9 to 8. The opposition included Kopf, Newmaker, Africa, Miller, Smith, Patchen, Painter and Mead. Approval was voted by Merenick, Carbon, Laskaris, Rudiger, Geracimos, Levine, Johnson, Peterson, and Pasquerette.

Council discussed the recent suggestion that it invest in heavy construction equipment. It was decided that it would not be a saving and that the borough is not in the heavy construction business.

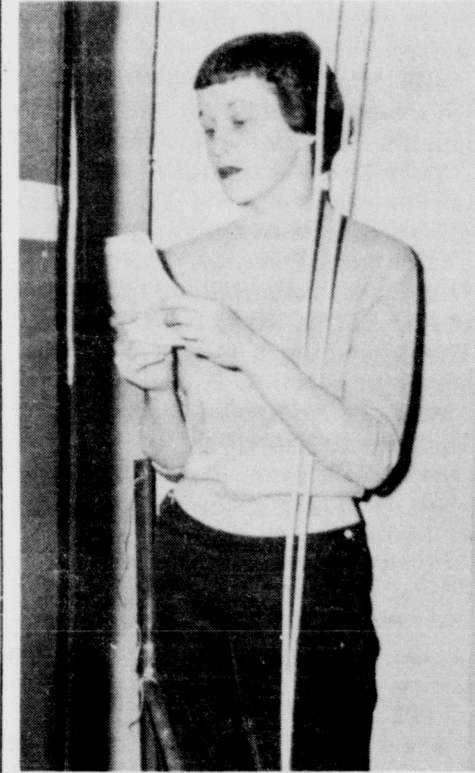

A memorial to Raymond Eckart, Warren officer, was read into the minutes. It was a well deserved statement, giving the late officer credit for introducing photography and fingerprinting into Warren police work, and reviewing his advancement from patrolman to captain.

It was learned that Bud Maier will terminate his airport lease on May 1. A replacement may be obtained by April. Council also voted to sublet six acres of the port for the planting of corn at the rate of $1 a year.

Burgess Rice mentioned a plan for creating fifteen minute parking meters on Second st., near the banks to facilitate service for those institutions.
